Maximizing Quality of Life with Person- Centered Cognitive Support Technologies

Daniel Davies, MA

*Founder and President
Ablelink Technologies
Colorado Springs, CO*

Emerging cognitive support technologies resulting from evidenced-based research are having a transformational impact on the independence and self-determination of individuals with developmental disabilities. This session will illustrate state-of-the-art technologies for social connectedness, transportation, and self-directed supports, developed specifically for individuals with developmental disabilities to facilitate their independence. The symbiotic relationship of these supports with innovative Smart Living Technologies, such as cloud-based technologies for care giving, also will be presented.

Developmental Disabilities Lecture Series

SPRING 2012

The Elizabeth M. Boggs Center on Developmental Disabilities

invites nationally known speakers to our state to discuss current issues of interest and concern to people with disabilities, their families and those who work on their behalf. The Boggs Center invites professionals, parents, people with disabilities, policy makers, and community members to attend any individual Lecture or the entire Series.

The Developmental Disabilities Lecture Series is a continuing education activity of The Boggs Center. Funding for the Series is provided by the Division of Developmental Disabilities, Department of Human Services, State of New Jersey (Contract #07ML12C) and the Administration on Developmental Disabilities, Administration for Children and Families, US Department of Health and Human Services (Grant # 90DD0552).
